

THOMAS W. ALDOUS, JR.

Of Counsel

E taldous@fennemorelaw.com

Phoenix, Arizona

T.J. is of counsel in the trusts, estates and wealth preservation practice group where he is adept at counseling clients, building client trust and managing client relationships. He possesses experience in estate planning, trust formation and administration, tax controversy and IRS audits, business contracts, real estate and commercial leases, and tax matters with the ability to understand and negotiate complex agreements.

Early in his career, T.J. thought that he wanted to be a dentist, but that field's loss is the legal field's gain. He has earned a J.D. from the University of Kansas, and a Master of Laws (in taxation) from NYU, and has years of working, speaking, and publishing on many topics in the trusts and tax arenas. He especially likes helping people, defending their interests, resolving their problems, and relieving their burdens. T.J. takes to heart the interests of his clients, putting himself in their shoes, and often stubbornly digging in until he can find a solution to help guide them to the goals that they want to accomplish.

T.J. and his wife have two older children, as well as an 11-year-old still at home, and while not working on homework, they like to hike followed by lots of cooking, and baking – and enjoying family meals together.
