JENNIFER THOMAS

Jennifer Thomas is an associate in Fennemore's Business Litigation practice group. She assists her clients with complex commercial litigation.

Jennifer's experience includes advising multinational clients on a wide range of matters including antitrust, bankruptcy, regulatory investigations, and securities violations. Her practice spans both U.S. and international courts, where she has secured favorable outcomes such as dismissals, summary judgments, and even acquittals in federal criminal proceedings.

Jennifer also brings substantial experience in white-collar defense, data privacy, and human rights litigation. During her time at the International Criminal Court in The Hague, she helped shape reparations standards for victims, and she has provided legal services through public interest placements and pro bono initiatives across the globe.

She is an active member of the legal community, having contributed to firm initiatives, mentored junior attorneys, and served as a liaison for summer associate programs. Jennifer holds a J.D. from the University of Southern California Gould School of Law, where she served on the Southern California Review of Law & Social Justice.
