

MICHAEL S. GROH

Paralegal

Business Litigation

Denver

P: 303.316.6695

mgroh@fennemorelaw.com

The blazing fire makes flames and brightness out of everything thrown into it.

Marcus Aurelius, Meditations

MICHAEL S. GROH

Michael Groh is a seasoned litigation paralegal with nearly a decade of experience supporting attorneys in complex disputes. His work centers on construction and business litigation, including mechanics' lien drafting, foreclosure actions, and case management from pleadings through trial. Michael is adept at analyzing large volumes of documents, drafting substantive pleadings, and managing discovery responses and disclosures.

He has extensive trial preparation and in-court experience, including exhibit management and live presentation at trial. His background also includes expedited jury trials, commercial eviction and forcible entry detainer actions, bankruptcy, appeals, and post-judgment collection efforts. Known for his adaptability and precision, Michael ensures that each matter is organized and trial-ready. Drawing on his prior role as Process Lead for an international IT services provider, he applies advanced technical expertise to streamline litigation support and improve client outcomes.

With strong attention to detail, technical proficiency, and practical insight, Michael is a trusted resource in advancing complex disputes to resolution. His experience spans work conducted across more than five states, giving him a broad perspective on litigation strategy and procedural practice.

In his free time, Michael can be found golfing, sailing, playing basketball, or watching the latest movie release.

AREAS OF PRACTICE

- Business Litigation

- Construction Law

ADMISSIONS

- Not licensed to the practice of law*