AMY ABDO

Amy Abdo is widely recognized as a highly accomplished litigator who represents clients in high-stakes, complex disputes. Drawing on substantial courtroom experience, she brings a results-driven, strategic approach to every matter. Pragmatic, organized, and efficient, Amy is known for her tenacity and resilience, earning a reputation as a formidable adversary in sophisticated litigation.

Amy represents leading law firms and attorneys in the defense of professional liability claims. She also advises and defends businesses in complex commercial disputes and frequently litigates covenants not to compete and other restrictive covenants, often in expedited evidentiary proceedings. She defends employers against claims involving discrimination, harassment, breach of contract, wrongful discharge, and other employment-related tort and contract matters. Amy regularly conducts workplace investigations and counsels employers on a wide range of workplace issues.

Adept at leading legal teams, Amy has broad experience across business litigation, professional liability defense, employment law, and public records law. She is also a skilled negotiator, often achieving favorable resolutions in the most contentious matters.

Amy is licensed to practice in Arizona, Nevada, and California and is experienced in numerous states in all phases of litigation, including bench and jury trials, arbitration, mediation, administrative proceedings, and investigations.

A natural leader, she has served on the firm's management committee, compensation committee, and as litigation section chair.
