ANDREW T. FLYNN

Andrew is a Director in the Business Litigation group and represents clients in a variety of commercial disputes. Andrew's practice includes corporate and limited liability company disputes, real estate disputes, title disputes, insurance coverage and recovery, and securities law. He has extensive trial, deposition, and mediation experience, and has tried dozens of jury trials, court trials, and arbitrations throughout Colorado. Although based in Colorado, Andrew has represented clients throughout the United States, including New York, Texas, California, North Carolina, and Pennsylvania, among others.

An experienced trial attorney, Andrew advocates for clients in state and federal courts, arbitrations, and bankruptcy adversary proceedings. Andrew understands the importance of telling his clients' stories in compelling ways, turning complex cases into winning narratives.

Andrew represented a national property developer in a dispute with another property developer in a multi-million dollar real estate deal. After a five-day court trial, Andrew's client won specific performance of a contract for the sale of a valuable piece of real estate. He also represented an international automotive and trucking company in multiple lawsuits arising from a complex embezzlement scheme. The scheme resulted in two federal lawsuits, a state court lawsuit, and a bankruptcy adversary proceeding, in which Andrew recovered millions of dollars from various defendants for his client. Andrew has also tried and won complex securities litigation and employment litigation in state and federal courts.

Andrew's previous experience includes defending insurance companies and their policyholders from an array of claims. He now draws upon his extensive knowledge of the insurance industry to help corporate policyholders understand insurance coverage and maximize their recoveries. Additionally, Andrew also has experience bringing bad faith breach of insurance claims against insurance carriers.

Although his primary focus is litigation, Andrew also has experience in corporate transactions, including closing a stock redemption for a minority shareholder of a national food distribution company.
