

A. EMORY WISHON III

Emory Wishon III is an Attorney in Fennemore's Business & Finance practice group, where he counsels clients on estate planning, real estate, and business matters. With decades of experience, Emory provides comprehensive guidance in structuring and managing business enterprises, including partnerships, corporations, limited liability companies, and joint ventures.

His real estate practice encompasses purchase and sale transactions, escrow matters, real estate development ventures, and representation of both borrowers and lenders in financing for residential, office, commercial, and industrial projects. In addition, Emory has developed a robust estate planning practice, advising clients on estate tax minimization, probate, trust administration, charitable giving, and lifetime planning services such as wills, living trusts, and powers of attorney. His thoughtful counsel helps individuals and families preserve and transfer wealth across generations.

Beyond his legal practice, Emory is deeply engaged in the Central Valley community, where he has held numerous leadership roles. As a Member of the Board of Governors for Fresno State since 1996, he served as Chair in 2008 to 2011 and as Investment Committee Chair for 19 years. He has been a Board Member of Murphy Bank since 2000 and contributes his insights in regional entrepreneurial activities through Fresno State and other groups.
