CRAIG WEAVER

Craig Weaver is a Director at Fennemore based in Reno-Tahoe who assists business owners in establishing, growing, protecting, and selling their businesses.

Practicing law in Reno, Truckee, Lake Tahoe, Northern Nevada, and the Lost Sierra, Craig is an experienced litigator and transactional attorney. Craig now spends less time in the courtroom but draws heavily on that experience when advising entrepreneurs who are just getting started as to the proper entity structure to best meet their needs, maximize efficiency, liability protection, and tax savings, whether that be an LLC, corporation, or limited liability partnership, and also when working with established business owners on mergers, acquisitions, equity incentive plans, real estate matters, corporate financing, secured transactions, capital raises, corporate restructuring, and general corporate governance and compliance matters.

Craig is well known for his attention to detail, responsiveness, and methodical approach to the practice of law, which allows him to obtain the best result for each of his clients while always being mindful of each client's individual needs. Craig is able to quickly recognize and define the issues his clients face and then work with them to develop strategies on how to best deal with each individual issue. As a former Certified Family Law Specialist, certified by the State Bar of California Board of Legal Specialization, Craig gained considerable experience litigating the nuances of phantom stock programs, profit sharing agreements, and restrictive stock units in the family law arena, as well as issues concerning the valuation of family-owned businesses and fractional ownership interests in businesses and real property holdings. Craig now works with individuals and business owners to help them structure or restructure these types of programs and ownership interests to avoid common pitfalls.

As a litigator, Craig has established a successful track record, including helping to facilitate favorable settlements for his clients. He has successfully argued cases and motions before the Superior Courts of Placer, Nevada, El Dorado, Sacramento, Plumas, Sierra, Alpine, Tuolumne, San Francisco, Sonoma, Alameda, Yolo, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Riverside, Orange, San Diego, and Los Angeles counties in the State of California, in the Eastern District of California, as well as in District Court in Washoe County, Nevada, and Kootenai County, Idaho, and Justice Court in Carson City and Incline Village, Nevada.

From 2023 through 2025, Craig has been named a "Super Lawyer" in Northern California by Thomson Reuters after having been named a "Rising Star" from 2017-2021. In 2019, Craig was admitted as a Fellow of the National Association of Distinguished Counsel. In 2017-2018, he was recognized as one of the 10 Best Family Law Attorneys in Northern California for Client Satisfaction by the American Institute of Legal Counsel, and in 2018, Craig was selected as one of the Top 10 Family Law Attorneys in California by the American Jurist Institute. In 2017, Craig was recognized as being one of the top 40 attorneys under the age of 40 in Northern California by The National Advocates, and in 2015 he was named as one of the Top Family Law Lawyers in Sacramento by Sacramento Magazine, received the Avvo Client's Choice Award, and was nominated as a National Lawyer of Distinction in Family Law. A year earlier in 2014, Craig received an Honor Advocate award from the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers of Northern California for his performance at the Northern California Trial Practicum in San Francisco.

Craig received his Juris Doctorate (J.D.) degree from the University of Idaho in 2009. He also received a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree in Business with an emphasis in Marketing and a minor in Public Relations from the same institution. Craig graduated magna cum laude near the top of his class and served as the president and executive director of various organizations while pursuing his undergraduate degree. In addition, in 2004, Craig was named the Outstanding Business Student of the Year by the prestigious Beta Gamma Sigma honor society, the business equivalent to Phi Beta Kappa for liberal arts and science graduates, and is a recipient of the University of Idaho Alumni Award for Excellence.

Prior to joining Fennemore, Craig was a partner MOBO Law, LLP based in Lake Tahoe. Before going to law school, Craig served as the director of marketing for an international travel company based out of El Dorado Hills, California, and gained international experience working as a program director in the Bahamas, Mexico, and Canada for WorldPass Travel Group, LLC and International Student Tours, Inc. During law school, Craig gained substantial experience as a legal intern at Paine Hamblen, LLP, based out of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and Beck & Poorman, LLC, based out of Hayden, Idaho, both highly respected firms in North Idaho and Eastern Washington. As a third-year law student, Craig gained notoriety by successfully arguing a case before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco while serving as a member of the University of Idaho Legal Aid Clinic. Upon completion of his law degree, Craig returned to Northern California and founded American Dream Management, LLC, a California limited liability company providing management services to common-interest development community associations. Soon thereafter, in 2009, Craig began practicing law as a solo practitioner before joining Cordell & Cordell, P.C., one of the nation's largest domestic relations litigation law firms, where he served as the lead attorney for the Sacramento office. In 2014, he joined Bartholomew & Wasznicky, LLP to better serve his clients as part of the most experienced family law firm in Northern California. In 2016, he moved to MOBO Law, LLP to expand his practice base and increase his presence in Truckee, Reno, Lake Tahoe, Northern Nevada, and the Lost Sierra. In 2025, Craig joined Fennemore to better serve his existing clientele and continue expanding his practice reach further into the Mountain West.

In his time away from the office, Craig enjoys mountain biking and spending time with his family. He is also an avid alpine and backcountry skier, competitive triathlete, and endurance runner, having completed Ironman Lake Tahoe, Ironman Canada, Ironman Coeur d'Alene, XTERRA Lake Tahoe, XTERRA Tahoe City, and the Big Sur Marathon, among other races.
