DIANA L. WHEELLEN

Diana Wheelen is an experienced paralegal working with attorneys in Fennemore's business litigation, trust litigation, probate, gaming and regulatory, transactional, and business law practice areas. She assists attorneys with all phases of case management, including legal research, document drafting, discovery support, trial preparation, regulatory filings, and matter organization.

Diana has over 20 years of legal experience, with a strong focus on business litigation, trust litigation, and probate matters. She also assists with gaming and regulatory matters, including application preparation, factual research, document organization, and communications with clients, courts, regulators, public officials, and opposing counsel. Her experience includes preparing and revising pleadings, applications, briefs, correspondence, and other legal documents, while ensuring deadlines, filings, and client matters are handled accurately and efficiently.

Known for her strong organizational skills, professionalism, and ability to manage competing priorities, Diana helps keep matters moving forward on schedule. Her knowledge of Nevada court and agency filing requirements, including e-filing rules and procedures, combined with her practical and detail-oriented approach, makes her a reliable resource for attorneys and clients handling complex legal matters.

In her free time, you can find Diana camping, gardening, and spending time with family and friends.
