JESS JOHNSON

Jess Johnson is an attorney in Fennemore's business litigation practice group, where she assists clients with business and construction litigation matters.

Prior to joining Fennemore, Jess earned her law degree from The George Washington University Law School, concentrating in Government Procurement Law. She completed her undergraduate studies at Barrett, The Honors College at Arizona State University, graduating summa cum laude with a degree in History and Global Studies, as well as a certificate in Political History and Leadership.

Her diverse internships have provided her with a well-rounded understanding of judicial processes at both the local and federal levels. She has interned with the Maricopa County Superior Court, the 16th Judicial Circuit of Virginia, and the Civilian Board of Contract Appeals.

Jess also brings a unique perspective on the challenges contractors and business owners face, having worked in-house for one of the nation's largest specialty contractors, where she provided legal and regulatory compliance guidance.

A native of Prescott, Arizona, Jess is an avid hiker, traveler, and foodie.
