

AUSTIN SLAUGHTER

Austin Slaughter is a part of our Business Litigation practice group, focusing on complex commercial litigation and probate administration. A graduate of the University of Colorado Law School, Austin served as Production Editor of the Colorado Law Review. Born and raised in Reno, he holds a Bachelor's degree in Political Science & International Affairs from the University of Nevada, Reno, graduating with high honors.

Austin's legal career commenced with a clerkship under the Honorable Larry R. Hicks, where he mastered trial and motion practices in the United States District Court for the District of Nevada. His experience broadened at a local boutique litigation firm in Reno, Nevada, where he developed proficiency in handling complex matters spanning contract, construction, and employment disputes.

Admitted to the Nevada Bar and the U.S. District Court for the District of Nevada, Austin's academic excellence and practical experiences make him a great addition to our team. His interests outside the law include swimming and exploring the Reno-Tahoe area's great outdoors. Austin's varied background equips him to deliver insightful and dynamic legal solutions to our clients.

EDUCATION

J.D., University of Colorado Law School

B.A., University of Nevada, Reno

AREAS OF PRACTICE

Business Litigation

AWARDS AND HONORS

Best Lawyers: Ones to Watch® in America, Commercial Litigation, 2027

Mountain States Super Lawyers Rising Stars®, Business Litigation, 2025-2026

2025 Top Rank Attorney List, Nevada Business Magazine

ARTICLES AND PRESENTATIONS

Co-Author, "Planning for the digital future: Cryptocurrency in estate planning," Las Vegas Review-Journal, September 15, 2025

ADMISSIONS

Nevada