SABRINA BIGELOW

Sabrina Bigelow is an attorney in our vibrant real estate practice group, where her work focuses primarily on real estate transactions, such as assisting developers and homebuilders with the purchase, sale, and lease of commercial properties. She is proud to play a role in this challenging area that is a significant component of our law firm's history — and continues to be a critical economic driver in the new American west.

Possessing a Bachelor of Science in business administration with a specialization in accounting, Sabrina's business background has helped shape her legal career. She was excited to use both her business knowledge and law degree to promote the dynamic real estate market around her. A two-time summer associate here at the firm, Sabrina relates she clicked immediately with the friendly, approachable vibe of our culture, and she considers several of the attorneys on our deep real estate roster to be her invaluable mentors.

Sabrina practices yoga, enjoys running, and considers her two dogs, Lulu and Griffey, to be the ultimate source of recharging her batteries.
